

BUMS ON SEATS

With the Oscars, that bastion of back-slapping self-indulgence still fresh in our minds, St Michael's Players have decided to take the old luvvies down a peg or two with Michael Snelgrove's "Bums on Seats". An hilarious sideways glance at the Thespian trade, the story of what really goes on behind the Safety Curtain of a provincial theatre during a matinee day. With a large "dramatis personae" playing everything from egotistical actors to drunk and lecherous directors, via a whole cast and crew of the most eccentric and outrageous bunch of luvvies you may have had the misfortune to meet. This promises to be a most diverting evening entertainment not to be missed by anyone who knows that it is quicker and more interesting to watch paint dry than it is to watch an Oscar winner's acceptance speech.
